

The NBA therefore reassures legal practitioners, courts, court registries, and the general public that the NBA Stamp and Seal policy remains extant, valid, and enforceable in line with the decisions of the Supreme Court.

The Stamp and Seal regime was introduced as a professional regulatory mechanism aimed at safeguarding the integrity of legal practice, curbing impersonation, and protecting the public from quacks masquerading as legal practitioners. It remains a vital instrument for maintaining professional standards and preserving the integrity of the legal profession in Nigeria.
